The image shows a Windows dialog box titled "Certificate Import Wizard". The main heading is "Certificate Store". Below it, a text box explains: "Certificate stores are system areas where certificates are kept." A horizontal line separates this from the next section. The next section says: "Windows can automatically select a certificate store, or you can specify a location for". There are two radio button options: the first is "Automatically select the certificate store based on the type of certificate" (which is selected), and the second is "Place all certificates in the following store". Below the second option is a text box labeled "Certificate store:" and a "Browse..." button. At the bottom of the dialog, there are three buttons: "< Back", "Next >" (which is highlighted with a red rectangle), and "Cancel".
